Headline:
Patchy cloud and sunny spells for all, with breezy winds.

Today:
A dry day for most, with patchy cloud and plenty of bright and sunny spells across the region. The odd outbreak of light rain or drizzle possible for Cornwall at times. Feeling cool with breezy winds throughout, especially along coasts. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry night, with evening clear spells giving way to building cloud going overnight. The odd outbreak of patchy rain possible for easternmost areas before dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy start for all, with this cloud then breaking up into the afternoon and allowing for more frequent sunny spells. Staying dry throughout, but winds remaining breezy. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Quite cloudy through this period, with occasional bright or sunny spells. Patchy rain or drizzle remains likely, with the odd heavier, showery outbreak on Thursday. Widespread persistent rain arriving Friday.
